Mrs. Brice met her guests in the drawing room, and her daughters and son re-echoed her pleasant welcome on the lawn, where they remained for the most part. The hostess was richly gowned in an embroidered ecru lawn, and wore a dainty bonnet. Miss Brice wore pale pink organdie lace, trimmed over rose oink silk, and a becoming large hat. FUN AT THE C. BL. C.

Whist Game That Has Led to Much Merriment Among Member

The members of the Capital Bicycle Club have been having lots of fun over a whist match which was played at the club house last Tuesday night. The club is going to send a team to the whist congress to be neld in July, and there is naturally much interest among the members as to who will compose it. In The Evening Star of Tuesday last there was an item to the effect that the C. Bi. C.'s compass whist match brought out some beautiful whist, remindng one of the old-time activity of the club preparatory for the contest. Then came reformation for the contest. Then came the following:

"Fogg and MacComb headed the strong pairs, and showed what stroke these two are pulling. Fogg is a brainy player, not given to taking flyers and quite conservative, being satisfied with one frick on a hand. MacComb has been known for years as a steady, safe, reliable partner."

Messrs. Fogg and MacComb were naturally pleased with the compliment thus extended to them, and in the language of a member of the club they "began throwing bouquets around, looking for trouble," and that night challenged any team to play

The defy was accepted by a team composed of Nash, captain; Mattingly, Ulke and Stephens, who called themselves the "scrubs." The "brainles and steadies," as the opposing and challenging team is now called, were captained by Mr. Fogg, the other members being MacComb, McCaul and Cole. When the match was over the painful discovery was made that the painful discovery was made that the "scrubs" had defcated the "braintes and steadies" by eleven tricks. Hence the mer-riment on 15th street.
